JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS, THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 24, 1904

LECTURED BY THE PRESIDENT

PLAIN TALK GIVEN PARTY OF CALLERS

Endeavors to Impress Upon Indian Visitors Ideas of Industry and Thrift—Day in Congress—Capital Notes.

Washington, March 23.—President Roosevelt soundly lectured a party of his callers to day. They were presented by Representative Burk of South Dakota and were Ogallala Sioux Indians, who, it is said, are more addicted to horse racing and gambling than they are to the pursuits of agriculture. The president endeavored to impress upon his visitors ideas of industry and thrift. He frankly told them if they would stop horse racing and gambling and devote their energies to cattle raising and agriculture they soon might become valuable citizens. The policy of the government, he said, was to take care of the older Indians, but younger members of all tribes soon would have to look out for themselves as other citizens do. Idleness and laziness would not be tolerated and they must learn to cultivate industry and self-reliance. Old Indians present cordially approved the president's remarks.

SENATE.

The senate again spent the greater part of the day considering the Indian appropriation bill. Three hours of the time was given to discussion of a claim of $50,000 for services rendered the Chocoma Indians. It finally was eliminated from the Indian bill. The civil service debate was renewed and there was considerable discussion of the policy to be pursued in securing employees for work on the Panama canal.

HOUSE.

When the house adjourned to day some progress had been made in reading of the postoffice appropriation bill for amendment, but only six pages were disposed of. The appropriation for railway mail service was carefully scrutinized and in case of inland mail transportation by star routes the appropriation was scaled down from $5,100,000 to $4,550,000. The question as to length of time a postal car may be used before it becomes unfit for service was settled by the house when an amendment by Tawney (Minn.) was adopted providing that no part of the appropriation shall be used for rental of cars which have been in service for more than fifteen years.

An unsuccessful fight was made against appropriations for special mail facilities over trunk lines south from Washington and west from Kansas City.

NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS.

Representatives of different newspaper publishers appeared before the senate committee on postoffices and postroads to day in support of the amendment offered by Senator Alger to the postoffice appropriation bill to permit rural mail carriers to do an express package business and to act as agents for newspaper and periodical publishers in distribution of their publications. The committee was generally in favor of adoption of the amendment, but will consider it finally when the appropriation bill comes from the house.

CAPITAL NOTES.

The state department has received formal notice from the Chinese government denouncing the Chinese exclusion, so this convention will expire Dec. 27 next unless replaced by another treaty by that date. This action was taken in spite of the strongest efforts to the contrary on the part of the state department.

The senate committee on appropriations to day reported the District of Columbia appropriation bill. It carries $11,363,294, an increase of $1,187,727 over the bill passed by the house.

The senate to day confirmed the nomination of William N. Lister to be postmaster at Ypsilanti, Mich.

Senator Dietrich to day introduced a bill to amend the homestead law so as to authorize leasing of public lands in Nebraska for grazing purposes.

PRAIRIE FIRES.

Holdrege, Neb., March 23.—A terrific prairie fire driven by a gale is raging along the line of the Burlington railroad between here and Atlanta, seven miles. A farmer named August Olson was burned to death and two other persons are missing and are believed to have lost their lives in the flames. A strip three miles wide and ten miles long has already been burned over and a large number of farm houses, barns and other buildings and a great amount of livestock has been destroyed.

Loomis, Neb., March 23.—A prairie fire is raging two miles west of here, burning a strip four or five miles wide and destroying nearly everything in its path. One man is reported to have lost his life.

NEGROES KILLED IN BATTLE.

Dewitt, Ark., March 23.—Three negroes were killed in a battle between blacks and whites at St. Charles. Deputy sheriffs were searching for two negroes who had seriously wounded two white men in a fight at St. Charles and while passing through a section of woodland were fired at from a thicket by a party of negroes. The whites returned the fire and killed three negroes. Further trouble is feared.

DEMOCRATIC SENATORS

Decide to Use Aggressive Tactics to Air Demands for Postoffice Investigation.

Washington, March 23.—Aggressive tactics have been decided upon by the Democratic members of the senate to air their demands for an investigation by congress of the postoffice department. Notice to this effect was served upon the senate committee on postoffices and postroads to day by Democratic members when the committee again put off the requests of Senators Gorman and Clay that one of the resolutions now pending in committee looking to congressional investigation, be reported to the senate. The plan of the Democratic senators is now to offer a new resolution calling attention to former resolutions and to the fact they have been permitted to sleep in the committee. This would bring the entire matter before the senate. It has been conceded by Democratic senators that the resolution which they propose to bring in will come no nearer adoption than the ones sent to the postoffice committee, but they assert the effect will be to bring out a full debate, which is estimated will last a week at least.

STOCK DISTRIBUTION

Announcement of Holdings of Northern Securities Results in Excited Market.

New York, March 23.—An excited and feverish market resulted to day from the announcement of terms of distribution of Northern Securities holdings of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific stock. Trading in Union Pacific and Southern Pacific was on a large scale, and almost monopolized the market for a time, but when these stocks began to run off under heavy realizing the demand shifted to some eastern trunk lines and western groups. Some fears were entertained that excited buying of Union Pacific represented a contest for control, as that company is insured large and influential holdings both of Northern Pacific and Great Northern under terms of distribution without any compensatory holdings in Union Pacific on the part of those companies. There will be much mystery attached to the whole movement. Opening prices of Union Pacific were not held. On the first reaction it touched 82½ after a feverish rally and ran off again more than before.

ORDERED FROM JURY.

Chicago, March 23.—In a jury drawn to weigh evidence in a case where labor and capital were opposed nine jurors were declared to judge Mack that they would not consider his instructions of law in the case, but would find a verdict in favor of the workmen. All were ordered from the jury box by the judge. The verdict in the case was in favor of the employers.

PROUTY'S OPINION.

Detroit, March 23.—Charles Azro Prouty, interstate commerce commissioner, in this city to day said he did not believe the Northern Securities decision will result in breaking up of any more combinations, and expressed the opinion "the government should not attempt any further action to destroy these combinations, but should regulate their rates. The public does not care how the roads are conducted so long as rates offered them are just and fair."

CAPITAL AND LABOR.

Philadelphia, March 23.—Methods of preventing strikes and adjusting differences between capital and labor were discussed to day at the opening convention of the National Metal Trades association. About three hundred metal firms are represented in the organization. Among national officers present is J. W. Gardner, of Quincy, Ill., second vice president.

CUBAN SUGAR CROP.

Havana, March 23.—As a result of the operations of the reciprocity treaty between the United States and Cuba and steady upward price of sugar, scarcely any of the sugar crop will be held in storehouses as was formerly the rule, planters shipping the entire output. The new tobacco crop is the finest ever gathered, the plan adopted in the United States of covering entire fields with cheese cloth producing the largest leaves, which are of the finest texture and aroma and are flawless, because entirely protected from insects.

WANT ANOTHER PROPOSITION.

New York, March 23.—It was reported to night that Daniel J. Sully will be asked to morrow by creditors of his firm to make another proposition for settlement. It was stated acceptance of this proposition, if at all satisfactory, would be practically certain and would involve the immediate reinstatement of Sully on the cotton exchange.

SOLD BALL CLUB.

Washington, March 23.—Burr B. Johnson, president of the American Base Ball league, has sold the Washington base ball club to Thomas C. Naves and William J. Dwyer.

TWO STRONG POSITIONS HELD

BY JAPANESE TROOPS IN COREA

Seoul Secure From Land Attacks by Russians—Foreign Consuls at New Chwang Discuss Means of Protection—War Reports.

London, March 23.—The Japanese hold two enormously strong positions at Ping Yang and on the Mokkak San range between Hwang Ju and Seoul. The latter, the Chinnampo, Korea, correspondent of the Mail says, is probably impregnable and secures Seoul from land attacks from the northwest. According to this correspondent, Russians are preparing to prevent Japanese landing at Pak Chon, twenty miles west of Anju, and says Japanese sailors admit Port Arthur is so protected by mines and torpedoes it would mean death to approach it.

FOR PROTECTION.

New Chwang, March 23.—An informal meeting of foreign consuls here has been called for the purpose of discussing means for securing protection of property of neutrals in view of the fact New Chwang is now surrounded by large Russian forces, having breastworks and batteries now established at the railway station on the east side of the river Liao and also at the fort on the west side. This situation exposes the treaty port to danger of cannon fire should the Japanese come up the river. On account of fear the United States gunboat Helena will be withdrawn residents have telegraphed United States Minister Cramer at Peking requesting presence of an American man-of-war in constant communication during continuance of the war.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—As no further dispatches, official or otherwise, have arrived here from Port Arthur up to this morning, officials have come to the conclusion bombardment by the Japanese fleet March 21 and 22 failed to cause any damage considered worthy reporting to the emperor. In consequence considerable satisfaction prevails in high circles.

ONE JAPANESE KILLED.

Seoul, March 23.—In a brush between opposing forces at the outposts north of Anju one Japanese was killed.

WAR REPORTS.

Tokio, March 23.—The house of representatives to day appointed a committee to investigate the charge that Tokuoka Akikawa, member of parliament, is in the employ of the Russian government. Akikawa is publisher of a Tokio paper which has been bitterly assailing the government, particularly on its financial policy.

A dispatch from Moji, opposite Shimonoseki, Japan, says the Japanese fleet made another attack on Port Arthur March 18, bombarded the city and its defenses and fought a furious engagement with the Russian fleet outside the harbor, destroying one Russian battleship. Seven Japanese casualties are reported. There is no information concerning the Japanese fleet's condition.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—According to private advices from Vladivostok the Russian squadron is still there. Dispatch of troops to the far east is proceeding rapidly.

The statement that Captain Ikoff, of Manchurian commissariat service, was recently summarily court martialed and shot as a spy is incorrect. The war office discovered he had sold important information in connection with the quarter-master's department to a military attaché of the Japanese legation here and he was dismissed from the army. He is now awaiting trial by court martial.

Seoul, March 23.—The Tong Haks are giving trouble in the northeastern part of Korea and are making overtures to Russians. A detachment of Japanese from Gusan engaged a body of Tong Haks near Samung with the result that twenty-four Tong Haks were killed or wounded and thirty-five captured.

St. Petersburg, March 23.—Reports printed in Europe and the United States to the effect that the state of siege such as has been proclaimed in Siberia and in Saratov province of southeastern Russia (through which the Siberian railroad runs) will be extended to the whole of European Russia, is officially declared to be absolutely false.

London, March 23.—The stringent Japanese censorship is likely to be relaxed early in April, says the Telegraph's Seoul correspondent. This coincides with numerous indications of imminence of land operations. Not a word has yet issued, either officially from Japan or unofficially from any other source, concerning the last bombardment of Port Arthur.

Number of Blindery Girls Out in Chicago Increased to 700—Causing Trouble.

Chicago, March 23.—The number of blindery girls on strike here was increased to 700 to day. Employers included in the Typothetae are said to contemplate a general lockout against the union. Girls employed in the printing establishments of Donohue & Co. caused disorder in front of the plant, clattering in the street, striking girls and sympathizers practically blocked traffic and were intimidating girls who failed to strike. Police were hurried to the scene to preserve order.

RAILROAD RESPONSIBLE.

Dubuque, Iowa, March 23.—The coroner's jury inquiring into the cause of the deaths of Thomas M. Rhyno, Griswold and Cavannah, killed in a collision of stock trains at Dyersville Feb. 25, returned a verdict holding the Chicago Great Western and Conductor Mahoney responsible. The wreck was caused by the second section of a stock train crashing into the first section, standing at Dyersville. Evidence showed there were no signals placed and speed of the second section was such as to make the collision inevitable.

KILLED BY GAS

Three Deaths in a New York Tenement House.

New York, March 23.—Otto Grossman, his wife and Jennie Longholder, a seamstress, were killed by illuminating gas in a tenement on East Eleventh street to day. ## ADVICE FROM GEN. MILES

IN REGARD TO TEMPERANCE CANDIDATE

Wants Advocate to Wait and See What Action is Taken in Matter by the Two Great Parties.

New York, March 23.—Rev. James H. Dunn, of this city, has received a letter from Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles in reply to a recent letter to Miles in reference to holding the national convention of the temperance party. Miles strongly advises against holding the convention until after the party has had opportunity to observe action taken on the temperance question by the Republican and Democratic national conventions. Miles says:

"Should either make such a nomination and announce such principles as will commend the approval and support of those whom you represent the opportunity to advance the objects of the temperance party would be offered, while at the same time patriotic men composing that party would contribute most essentially to uplifting our country from the menacing evils. Should no nomination be made by either of the great parties that would commend the cordial support of the temperance people, the opportunity to make a nomination of its own would still remain."

Many of the residents of Dauphin Park are unable to get supplies to their homes.

CHINA AND JAPAN

New York, March 23.—George F. Seward, former minister to China, in an address before the Columbia club to night on "The Foreign Powers in China and Japan," said that during the trouble in the far east Germany has not been idle. She has seized a port of great value on the coast of China, and back of Shanghai. This port has the greatest iron and coal deposit in the world. This is Germany's objective point and she will at no far distant day take up this territory—only a hundred miles from the sea. With Germany in possession of these lands and Russia in possession of Manchuria, the rest of China would prove an easy victim. The division of the remaining territory would possibly involve the nations of Europe in war, the like of which the world has never known.

CHICAGO MURDERS

Chicago, March 23.—Louis Pesant was sentenced to hang April 15 for the murder of Mrs. Mary Spilka. Pesant, last fall, strangled the woman to death to procure $500 which she possessed. My brother was an undertaker up to six months ago and through reverses in business was compelled to dispose of his wares at a sacrifice. I saw an opportunity to buy coffin cheap. I am always looking for a bargain, and I did not let the opportunity slip. I don't see any harm in preparing for a thing which is certain to happen. I have reason to believe that every member of my family will die some day, and it is a wise man that prepares for a rainy day."

Denver, March 23.—Col. William F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill") made a deposition before a notary in this city to day in the action for divorce which he has begun at Big Horn county, Wyoming. Cody will sail for Europe shortly and will be absent from the country when his suit is tried.

"Mrs. Cody tried to poison me three years ago," Cody testified. "She had frequently threatened to do it. We were visiting in Rochester, N. Y., during the holidays in 1900 and after Christmas I was ill. I supposed turkey and plum pudding did not agree with me. She said she would fix me up. She pretended to give me medicine. It was poison. It almost finished me, for I was unconscious some time. I think it must have been an overdose, for it made me vomit, and I suppose this saved my life."

Colonel Cody related many instances of his wife's having humiliated him at his "former home" in North Platte by her conduct toward his guests. The witness related many specific instances of his wife's discourtesy to his guests.

Mrs. Cody's counsel inquired into the character of the guest to whom she objected and into their conduct while at her home. The purpose of the inquiry was to show men whom he brought to the house were a fast and riotous set and behaved in such manner that she had a right to object to them.

Concluding his reference to Roosevelt Aldrich said:

"By his fearless and conscientious discharge of difficult executive duties, by his zealous and constant devotion to the highest interests of the public at home and abroad, by his fidelity to the principles of our great party, by his virile and vigorous Americanism, he has shown himself worthy of a conspicuous place in the illustrious line of Republican presidents."

"THE DEVIL DRESSED UP."

C. W. Henry, of this city, received from his brother in Little Rock, Ark., the following clipping from the Arkansas Democrat, of Little Rock. Mr. Beadles will be remembered by many who knew him well when he lived here. He is a brother of J. B. Beadles and Mrs. Dr. J. W. Hamilton, the latter of this city.

"The Devil Dressed Up" was the theme of a most interesting and eloquent discourse delivered by Rev. J. M. Beadles at Scott Street M. E. church last night. The text was taken from the ninth verse of the twelfth chapter of Revelations: "A great dragon was cast out; that old serpent called the devil."

"I do not propose making any bombardment on broadcloth nor any war on silks and satins—I have no fight against dry goods, because these things are beautiful, and as God loves the beautiful, I could not fight these and be in accord with Him. I am in sympathy with everything that is good; I am opposed to everything that is evil." Mr. Beadles said he was a believer in good dress but sometimes it was very deceitful. "Not a day passes when I walk the streets of Little Rock but that I see some gentleman tipping his hat to some cyclone of dry goods as it flits by," said he; "dry goods stores, millinery shops and drug palaces compose these people for the most part. Let the reverse come, let what money we have be swept away and how long would these people be recognized? I like hats and feathers on the head, but I also believe in decorating the interior. We are so limited in the flesh; but for our eyes we could see and but for our little ears we could hear. Man is so limited in his universe."

Mr. Beadles referred feelingly to the present war between Russia and Japan and said as God was always on the right and always for justice, he believed Japan would conquer in the end. He said that one of the devil's subterfuges was to make people believe there was no devil, but the person who thought that was usually in his clutches. "The devil is a disembodied spirit," said he, "and cannot accomplish anything until he embodies himself in some one; the devil is ever present in the world—he is ever seeking to embody himself."

"Many a patent-leather shoe encases a cloven foot, and sometimes if the hat were lifted it would reveal horns." He then referred to the supposed high class saloons on Main street, and said they were one type of the devil dressed up. "I see places on East Markham street, dirty, filthy, horrible places; these are the devil in rags. The devil in rags cannot accomplish as much as the devil dressed up, because he is not so deceptive. The best saloon is the worst saloon. The most dangerous devil of all is the devil dressed up." The speaker referred also to the scarlet section of the city as another form of the devil dressed up. He regarded them as being especially dangerous because of their beautiful appearance. He also spoke of the habitual loafer, saying that the well-dressed loafer was more dangerous than the poorly-clad one. Mr. Beadles also gave some original ideas about building a modern church. He said he would make it the most attractive place in town; plenty of good music, reading rooms, lodging house, and a dining room would be run in connection with the church.

Mr. Beadles has a style of delivery and an originality of thought which promise to place him among the best pulpit orators of the country, and one who visits Scott Street church will always find a pleasant surprise in the way of music, cordiality and good sermons.

STATE NEWS

Virginia—William Earl Jostich, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jostich, died Monday at the family home south of this city, after a few days' illness of inflammatory rheumatism, affecting the heart. He was a pupil of the sixth grade in the public schools.

Havana—Peter Rowe, who was arrested for the shooting of Charles High at Licherger Lake, was released under a $500 bond. His case will come up April 16. High is now thought to be out of danger.

Virginia—Richard Davis, a pioneer resident of the southern part of the county, died Tuesday afternoon at the home of his son, Joseph Davis, of the Monroe neighborhood. He has several children, some of whom are residents of this county.

Pawnee—The storm Monday night was one of the severest that has ever visited this vicinity. Lightning struck in many places and did great damage, burning two barns, killing nine horses and destroying farm property, hay, feed, agricultural implements, etc.

Springfield—By a decision handed down by the supreme court at Milwaukee, Wis., Johnnie Comara, Alexander McCarron and J. H. Henderson, of this city, who have been under trial for working a confidence game, were liberated. The court granted no money to Tennis Salvendy, the plaintiff, who was alleged to have lost a large sum of money on a "fake" foot race in this city. It was held by the court in rendering its decision that the defendants had been deceived into the state for the purpose of having them arrested. It was proved that the plaintiff had promised to secure a "sucker" who was to be relieved of his money and that it was on this promise that the men went to Milwaukee, where they were arrested.

Decatur—Mrs. Miller of South Webster street, tried to commit suicide by drinking carbolic acid while on the street. Her husband, who was with her, dashed the bottle from her hand and both were badly burned about the hands.

Pekin—The deluge of Monday night was a stunner. Even the oldest inhabitant marveled at the downpour. The old Beams house could not withstand the strain. The north wall collapsed at an early hour Tuesday morning. Raymond Russell and a comrade, who were asleep in one of the back rooms, had a close call from death. The bricks fell in a mass and came near catching the men. A washout occurred on the P. & P. U. at Wesley city, delaying trains. It was necessary to use but one track. The river raised nearly a foot in the night.

Paris—The creditors of the Paris Gas Light and Coke company, now in the hands of Receivers George E. Levings and John C. Riser, have petitioned the circuit court for an order of foreclosure and Judge Craig has appointed Attorney Frank T. O'Hara as special master in chancery to take evidence in the matter. The principal creditors of the insolvent company are the American Trust and Savings bank of Chicago and the Edgar County National bank of this city. The plant is valued at $80,000.

Decatur—Joseph Q. A. Ode, for fifty years a resident of Decatur and once prominent in the banking business, is dead. He was formerly a partner of James Milliken. He lost the greater part of his fortune in the panic of 1877. He was a native of Kentucky.

Decatur—William Dunn Lewis, one of the most prominent of the older citizens of Decatur, was found dead in his bed at his home. He had been ailing for several weeks, having had a severe attack of the grip. He was a native of New Jersey.

Lincoln—Dr. L. Olds and H. C. Matthy have been granted a twenty year franchise by the city council for the erection and operation of a hot water heating plant. It is understood that the promoters will buy the Lincoln electric street railway system and combine it with the new heating plant.

NOTHING EQUALS CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY.

Dr. P. B. Spears, of Pinchard, Ala., has become acquainted with the good qualities of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and uses it in his own family and in his practice. He says: "It beats any preparation I have ever seen for all bowel complaints. I do not think of recommending any other, and also use it with my own children."

This remedy is for sale by all leading druggists.

WHAT TIME PROVES.
This thing of being sick and looking for a cure is a mighty serious business. People are not given to joking even at the first symptom of the approach of the Grim Destroyer. They do not want to be the subjects of experiment, but want medicine that has had the test of years behind it. A medicine that has been made and used for 20 years gives assurance of its worth, and can be taken with a faith that they have the very best cure the world affords. All this can be said about Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills as a remedy for sick-headache, dyspepsia and indigestion; it begins right at the source of the trouble and removes the cause. Sold for 25c per box. One pill for a dose. Lee P. Alcott, druggist.

DENIED BY HOPKINS

Galesburg Republican Register: No man seems to be the target for more lies and misrepresentation than Governor Yates. The Chicago papers of Thursday, printed a Washington dispatch to the effect that Senator Hopkins and Governor Yates were at war and had exchanged warm letters over the joining of a Loyden Club, by the senator's son. All the coloring possible was put into the story. The Aurora Beacon interviewed Senator Hopkins at Aurora on the subject Friday, and following is his absolute denial.

"There is absolutely no truth in the story that I am at outs with Governor Yates. It is all tommyrot," said United States Senator Albert J. Hopkins, who is home from Washington for a few days on legal business, when asked to day concerning a story from Washington printed this morning in the Chicago Tribune, declaring that he is at war with the governor.

"I do not care to discuss the matter further, but I do want you to say I pronounce the entire statement false. There is no trouble between the governor and myself."

YE EDITOR.

A North Dakota editor unburies himself thusly: "The politician in my shepherd. I shall not want for anything during the campaign. He leaped me into the saloon for my vote's sake. He fillet my pocket with good cigars and my beer glass runneth over. He enquireth concerning my family even unto the fourth generation. Yea, even though I walk through the mud and rain to vote for him, and shout myself hoarse when he is elected, he straightway forgetteth me. Although I meet him in his own house, he knoweth me not. Surely the wool has been pulled over my eyes all the days of my life."

SOIL TREATMENT.

Prof. C. G. Hopkins, of the department of agronomy in the University of Illinois, has just issued a bulletin on "Soil Treatment for Peaty Swamp Lands, Including Reference to Sand and Alkali Soils."

This bulletin shows the benefit in the production of crops of the application of quantities of potassium salts, upon peaty soil lands in central and northern Illinois, from results obtained upon the University of Illinois soil experiment fields at Momence, Kankakee county, and at Tampico, Whiteside county. On the latter field, the addition of potassium produced yields of thirty-six to sixty bushels of corn in 1902, and forty-five, to sixty-six bushels in 1903, while, with no treatment of the soil, no ear of corn could be produced. At Momence in 1903, the results were even more astonishing, the use of potassium producing from sixty-seven to seventy-three bushels, while without potassium the average yield was only five bushels.

NEW GROCERY STORE.

A new grocery store is being erected at the corner of East street and Morton avenue, which, when completed, will be occupied by Leonard H. Whitlock, who for several years has been employed as salesman in the clothing store of I. E. Worfolk in this city.

STATE LAUNDRYMEN.

The state laundrymen's association has closed its session at Rockford after two days' deliberations. Bloomington was chosen for the meeting in 1905, a central location being desired. The following officers were elected for the year: President, E. M. Gaddis, Alton; first vice president, W. E. Dewey, Rockford; second vice president, Charles Ross, Quincy; secretary and treasurer, W. E. Fitch, of LaSalle.

Don Evans was jostled off of the C. & A. platform just in front of the approaching accommodation train at Whitehall, and was saved from death by the heroism of Harry Garrison who grabbed him instantly. Evans fell on his back across the rails.

A FAMOUS SPEECH

Delivered by Gov. Yates at New Orleans in April 1865—
 Kings With Patriotism.

A friend of the Journal recently left at the office a copy of the Memphis, Tenn., Daily Evening Bulletin, of April 5, 1864. The paper is discolored with age, but is fairly well preserved and is very interesting for it was published in the stirring times of the civil war. In it is published a two column article on a speech delivered by Richard Yates, then governor of Illinois, at the review of the Ninety-seventh Illinois, the Peoria battery and a small portion of the Twelfth cavalry, in New Orleans on the day previous.

Inasmuch as Jacksonville was the home of Governor Yates, a synopsis of the speech will doubtless be of interest to many readers of the Journal. He said, in part:

"It is a happy thought that while on the 11th day of this month I had the pleasure of addressing a vast concourse of the people of Chicago, amid loud cheers for the union, that far down in this southern spot, I now have the honor of addressing the troops of Illinois here convened, and such a vast assembly of the citizens of New Orleans, with the same evidences of strong union sentiment as in Illinois, and that here the glorious flag of the union floats as proudly and as freely as among the loyal millions of my prairie home. It is a source of gratification that while but a little over two years ago from Cairo to New Orleans the great river was in the hands of the enemy, with the black banner of treason floating defiantly from all its strongholds, that I have now traveled its entire length, following the glorious stars and stripes, no enemy opposing, and that every foot on either shore, wrunged from the grasp of the enemy, is in our undisputed possession. Thanks to Grant and Banks and their invincible armies, and to their noble, loyal union allies in the south, the Mississippi is ours.

"It is now plainer than ever that the Mississippi river, instead of being a boundary line of disunion is a stronger cord—stronger than iron—to bind together in indissoluble union the north and the south. The great northwest, which has become a power among the nations, has shown that no portion of the Mississippi shall ever flow through a foreign jurisdiction. That she will have the privilege of pouring her vast millions of produce into the lap of New Orleans, to build her up as the great emporium of the south, and to receive in exchange the products of your sunny fields. She has sworn that this great river, acquired by the common treasure to be the common property of all, bought of Napoleon to prevent any foreign jurisdiction, as naturally belonging to the whole country, and indispensable to its prosperity, peace and union, shall still belong not to Louisiana, Illinois, or any other foreign power, but to the United States of America.

"It might as well be understood by the south and the north, once for all, that this great outlet to the sea and all its tributaries, and the sea into which they flow, shall be the waters of freedom and union—open and free to the untaxed and uncontrolled commerce of the northwest by her millions of people and her hundred millions of commerce. For the first time in my life it has been my lot to visit this magnificent city of the south, second to none in the union for its advantages of its location, and for its beauty and gorgeous surroundings. If ever the temptation came across my mind to say to the south go, it will never come back again. I will never, no never, consent to give up this city and its noble, loyal men and women to traitors, for in geographical position as well as in the feeling of the masses, I mean the feelings of the great common people of the south, they are and must be one with us, now, irrevocably and forever. When I look upon this city as it has grown to greatness under the auspices, influence and protection of the union, it is marvelous to suppose that there ever should have been a solitary disloyal man within her limits.

"As I look over this whole country—from north to south and east to west; its mighty lakes and sweeping rivers; its forests and plains; all the vast arteries, natural and commercial which bind it together and call up the mighty memories of its origin, its stalwart march to national supremacy, and look forward to the sublime destiny which awaits it, if united, I stand amazed, all history will stand amazed, that the painted lizard of secession should have ever been permitted to enter and to sunder and divide and destroy it forever. I stand up here to day to say that the cloud is rolling away, and the sun bursting from behind it is full orbed with the face of national deliverance and safety. Jeff Davis and all his sympathizers here and elsewhere, may as well know now as ever that Banks and his army of gallant veterans; that Grant and his invincible hosts will never return to their homes in the north, or the east, and never desert their loyal allies in the south until they can carry back with them the old banner, blazoned with all its stars, treason crushed out and national union everywhere maintained and restored.

"The government cannot, to government can, compromise with traitors.

for in arms. You might as well expect the shaft of your city, or police to compromise with the criminal who, with pistol and bludgeon, resists his authority, as for our government to talk of compromise with traitors who defy its authority, and hold the dagger, long stained with loyal blood, at the throat of the nation. If we compromise at all, what have we to compromise but the life of the nation, for the very term compromise means submission—a disgraceful submission to traitors, not upon the terms of the government, but upon terms agreeable to traitors. No, we will fight the war through to the bitter end, till the rebel states lay down their arms and beg for peace—our motto being the unconditional submission of the traitors, and the nation one and undivided in all its geographical boundaries from gulf to gulf and from ocean to ocean."

FASHION TIPS.

A fetching hat direct from Paris is a wide brimmed coarse rush straw, trimmed with pale pink crepe, de chine in loose, fluffy folds. A large shaded pink feather is fastened on the left side under the brim, and falls on the hair at the back.

An alluring tailored costume worn recently by a fair American at Aut-tel was of black cloth of a souplasse worthy of crepe de chine.

The skirt was plainly cut, the small plaits, flutly stitched in groups on the hips, threw the fullness in becoming folds, and showed off the natural lines of the figure to perfect advantage.

Several rows of stitching in deep scallops bordered the unlined skirt at the hem, and two flat stitched pockets were placed on either side of the front breadth.

The coat was rather longer than most of the recent models. A deep pelerine of ivory velvet embroidered in cheville and finished with a narrow galon of black and white passementerie was worn on this suit, and a high collar of the same, buttoned over with an ivory and gilt button, finished the throat.

The upper part of the sleeves was closely stitched in flat plaits, and mousquetaire cuffs finished the sleeves at the wrist.

BIG SALARIES.

Ten railroad presidents of the United States draw salaries aggregating $485,000 a year, an average of $48,500 for each individual. Few of these men are capitalists, but each one wields a laboring arm in railway management and takes great responsibilities off the shoulders of the capitalists who employ him. The list is:

A. J. Cassatt, Pennsylvania R. R., $75,000
 George F. Baer, Reading Co., 50,000
 L. F. Loree, Rock Island, 50,000
 James J. Hill, Great Northern, 50,000
 Wm. H. Newman, N. Y. Central, 50,000

 E. B. Thomas, Lehigh Valley, 40,000
 Marvin Hughitt, C. & N. W., 40,000
 E. R. Ripley, Atchafson system, 40,000

Total $485,000
 In most cases these large salaries include compensation for services rendered as the executive head of several different companies, all, however, belonging to one system.

INDEPENDENT GRAIN MEN

Central Illinois Farm Companies Hold Meeting—Maxwell of Chicago Tells Why Boys Leave the Farm.

One hundred and fifty representatives of independent farmers' elevator companies in central Illinois held their annual meeting in Bloomington Tuesday. President J. Collins, of Tuscola, presided. Lee Kinard, of Athens, was elected president of the association; B. F. Hougham, of Howard, first vice president; W. H. Graham, of Chatham, second vice president; J. A. McCreery, Mason City, secretary; J. B. Abbott, Mason City, treasurer, and the following directors, A. Tomlin, Easton; Geo. W. Freese, Deer Creek; A. L. Leaverton, Springfield; Thomas Lamb, Jr., Genoa; George W. King, Kings; John Miller, Galva, and M. A. Adams, of El Paso, J. W. Hastings, of New Orleans, read a paper on the "Remedy for the Boycott." He suggested the value of securing all the documentary evidence possible against those who attempt to boycott the independent elevators. With this evidence properly and legally prepared the courts may be resorted to for redress. When the other fellows know the independent man has evidence against him he will cease unfair fighting and the markets will be opened to the cooperative elevators. Mr. Hastings did not favor that the independents rush into a fight on other grain dealers, but they should be ready at all times to meet unfair tactics if they should be adopted.

George H. Maxwell, of Chicago, spoke on "Co-operation and Producers." Among other things he said: "Co-operation among producers is one of the fundamental principles of business to day. In that which can not be done by individuals it is necessary to invoke the aid of all."

Mr. Maxwell said that the land is the foundation of our soil structure and the people should be taught to look to it and to till it for their living, and that when we pass the limit of what one man can do for himself we must look to the cooperation of all. In this process of co-operation a sure and safe foundation must be laid and only the best intellect and brains should be allowed to govern, plan and execute.

These movements must begin in a small way and build from the ground up. Farmers must keep their feet on the ground, do one thing at a time, learn to do that by actual experience and go slowly. They can thus solve all their problems. Mr. Maxwell told why he left the farm and why he believed other boys are leaving it. "I got away," he said, "because of the lack of mental stimulus. And I think a great many boys leave for the same reason, because there is not before them something to see and master. Look at the many farm problems to solve to day. Their education should turn them toward the solution of these problems. With the proper rural education and evolution, the ideal life of the future is going to be the life of an Illinois farmer."

The speaker favored a rural school in which books should be studied half a day and the garden and the farm the other half; that is, studying things and doing things in a rational relationship. He advocated in every county a school of higher grade where high school duties, manual training, domestic science and scientific farming might be taught. This will train the boy to find occupation for all his genius on the home farm.

Don't fail to see the Athletic contest at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night. Admission 15c.

GREAT SHOW FOR THE MONEY FRIDAY.

The theatre was filled last night to see the Jack Hoefler company, and it is without a question the best popular priced show ever seen in Poonia. The performance last night, "Grand Ruby," can easily be classed with the dollar shows seen here heretofore. The leading parts were in the hands of Miss Gertrude Ewing and Mr. McKee. They were supported by the best acting company ever seen in this city. Manager Hoefler carries all his own scenery and many handsome settings were displayed last night. As a rule the companies playing here have had their actors do specialties between acts, but such is not the case with this company, as many really high class vaudeville acts were seen last night who are carried for their specialty acts only and they were good ones. The Hoefler company should pack the theatre every night this week and our people will do well not to miss these really high class productions at popular prices.

The above company comes to the Grand Friday, March 25, direct from the Chatterton theatre, Springfield. Prices here will be 10, 20, 30 and 50 cents and lady free with one paid 30c or 50c ticket.

THE ISSUE OVER KOREA

Hermit Kingdom's Value to Japan and Russia.

WHY BOTH COUNTRIES WANT IT

Robert E. Speer, lately a resident of Seoul, Korea, describes in the World's Work for March the relations of Korea with China, Japan and Russia, also the reasons for the present war, as follows:

In contending against Russia for what she regards as her just interests in Korea, Japan is opening no new issue and advancing no fresh claim. Centuries before the Russian nation came into existence Japan and Korea were in intimate relationship, and the island empire regarded the neighboring peninsula as her proper field of influence. Early in the third century the queen of Japan invaded the southern kingdoms of Korea, subdued them and wrote on the king's gate, "The king of Shima is the dog of Japan." Until the tenth century southern Korea paid tribute to Japan and not only paid tribute, but also poured into Japan the tide of Chinese civilization—Chinese philosophy, Confucian morals and Chinese literature.

In the middle of the fourteenth century Korea came under Chinese vassalage, and the present dynasty was established on the throne. This ended the old relations between southern Korea and Japan, and thenceforth Korea became the middle ground between Japan and China, their common place of meeting and conflict.

In the six centuries which have elapsed since China became the suzerain of Korea there have been repeated attempts by Japan to subjugate the peninsula, and she has probably never in all these years abandoned the dream of detaching the kingdom from China and attaching it to herself. The war with China was no accident or avoidable struggle, but a step prepared for and contemplated for centuries and never lost sight of in all the changes through which Japan has passed toward a continental enlargement of her empire.

When Japan had passed through her political transformation the Korean government was summoned to resume ancient friendship and vassalage. An insolent reply was sent to Japan. The nation was not yet ready for action, and the insult was pocketed, though the restoration of superior relations to Korea was thenceforth more distinctly than ever the goal of Japanese foreign policy. In 1876 an unwarranted attack on some Japanese soldiers led to the invasion of the peninsula. There was no war, however. China advised the king to accept the first of the alternatives Japan offered—a treaty of commerce or war. Korea chose as China advised.

Three ports were opened, and both by China and by Japan Korea was declared free and independent. In 1884 there came another clash between the liberal and conservative factions, which ended in the triumph of stagnancy, but a recognition on the part of both China and Japan of equal interests and right to intervene. When the Tonghak insurrection threw Korea into disorder in 1894 both countries sent troops. China notifying Japan as she did so that Korea was her tributary state and Japan in her reply challenging China's claim. This was the real issue at stake in the Sino-Japanese war which ensued. Japan had never abandoned the idea of controlling Korea, either as a vassal state or as a state independent of China and under the tutelage of Japan. The war issued in the final demolition of all China's claim to the peninsula, and Korea slipped out forever from her old moorings into the wake and undertow of Japan.

Japan kept Korea for just one year, and it cannot be denied that she set a pace of progress and reform that took the breath out of her ward. All that Japan had learned from civilization was easier to teach Korea, but the temptations of the situation were too great and the impatience of the teacher could not be restrained. She forgot that great changes need time and that civilization is a growth from within and not a garment thrown on from without, and forgetting this and intoxicated with the joy of reform she began to vaccinate the people and to cut their hair, to prescribe the width of their sleeves and the cut of their trousers, and yet while pleased as a child with the chance of teaching the mint and anise and cummin of progress she by no means lost sight of the weighty matters of the law. Naturally a people schooled for centuries in Confucian notions, comatose with Chinese conservatism, even though startled by the overflow of their old nation and the meteoric demonstration of the superiority of western ways, did not like to be hustled along in this fashion. The Japanese, on the other hand, became convinced that they could get Korea civilized yet more rapidly if the queen, who was not a reactionary woman, but only a careful, shrewd, patriotic stateswoman, could be disposed of. The idea was monstrous, but the Japanese minister deliberately arranged for the murder of the queen.

The deed was done early in the morning of Oct. 8, 1895. On the preceding evening Japanese influence was absolutely supreme in Korea, but no one loved it. The reforms had provoked even the people most benefited by them. Japan had executed them in the most obtuse and unbecoming way. No party had been built up favorable to Japanese influence. The dismissed officials loathed their rulers, and the common people were incensed at their dictatorialness. The murder of the queen was the match. The explosion followed. One wonders at the stupidity of the Japanese in committing such a blunder. Any one could see the temper of the people. Every one knew that the queen, even though she might be slow and cautious, was the most reliable and intelligent element in the state and the best guarantee of such progress as was made.

But the blunder was committed, and in twenty-four hours Japan's influence in Korea was dead. The king fled to the Russian legation, and the country passed without an effort on his part or the expenditure of one dollar or one life into the hands of the czar. And so the eastern question, the most disturbing and harassing question of the century, rose up grimly in the land of the Morning Calm. For a time the wise and tolerant and honest course of the Russian minister in Seoul gave good promise that the question would not be freighted there with jealousies and conflicts and threats of strife. He gave the king a temporary home, aided him in his course, discouraged him from injustice, advised the employment of an Englishman as financial adviser of the treasury, with more power than he possessed for himself, dealt with firmness, moderation and self-restraint toward all. Mr. Weber was soon transferred to Mexico, however, and the policy of Russia in Korea underwent a change.

Japan had fought China to deliver Korea and recover her control of Korea's future. The issue of it all had been simply the substitution of Russia for China. On June 9, 1896, a convention was signed in Moscow which formally recognized this.

Two years later, on April 25, 1898, Russia having other business on hand and wishing to tie up Japan, the two governments made a further agreement, by which they agreed not to interfere with Korea's independence, and in case Korea asked one of them for advice it was to call in the other. Japan also was given the right to proceed with its commercial enterprises.

It may be well to add a brief summary of the agreements between each power and Korea which have since entered into the situation.

First.—Between Russia and Korea: A special settlement at Masampo, April 20, 1890. A whale fishing arrangement which allows the Russians to try out the whales on the Korean coast at stations where a force of men and some buildings may be maintained and which might be construed to cover actual settlements. April 3, 1901, a renewed and enlarged timber concession, covering the watershed of the Yalu and Tumen rivers and practically giving to Russia the control of the northern frontier of Korea. A nonalienation clause covering the island of Koche-do, near Masampo. A promise that no more mines will be granted to foreigners and that if any one is intrusted with the operation of the Korean household mines (which include all the good mines of the country) such operator shall be a Russian. An agreement that if capital is to be secured for the completion of the Northwestern railway, from Seoul to Wewon, such capital shall be secured in Russia and the work be entrusted to Russian engineers.

Second.—Between Japan and Korea: It may be noted that on Sept. 8, 1898, a concession was granted to a Japanese syndicate for a railway to connect Seoul and Fusan. Work was formally begun on this road Aug. 4, 1901. On Aug. 25, 1900, the Chiksan mining concession was granted to a Japanese firm. On Oct. 3, 1900, an additional fisheries convention was agreed to between Korea and Japan. On Dec. 8, 1900, permission was granted to a Japanese company to reclaim a portion of the fore-shore at Fusan. On May 20, 1901, a special Japanese settlement at Masampo was announced. With reference to the Seoul-Chemulpo railway, it might be added that this line was begun by Americans in 1897, was on Dec. 1, 1897, mortgaged to the Japanese State bank and on Dec. 31, 1898, formally taken over by a Japanese syndicate headed by Baron Shibusawa. The road was opened for traffic to the river near Seoul on Sept. 8, 1899, and to Seoul on the completion of the bridge, July 8, 1900.

The Japanese have seen that the situation is impossible, and the mass of the people have chafed continually at the conditions which eliminated China from her Korean problem only to replace her by a vastly more terrible competitor. It has been the Manchurian question which has brought matters to a head. And it is to the credit of the Japanese that they have been able to view that question with soberness and self-restraint. The treaty of Shimonoseki, which terminated the Sino-Japanese war, not only settled the destiny of Korea, but also transferred to Japan the Liaotung peninsula, embracing a great portion of Manchuria and including the ports of Port Arthur and Tientsin. It also opened four Manchurian ports to all foreign trade and assigned to the Japanese exclusive commercial advantages in the interior. These fruits of the war were all torn from Japan by Russia, Germany and France by a treaty which coerced Japan into signing and in which she relinquished the rights she had acquired in Manchuria. The confederates who had intervened to save China from Japan at once rewarded themselves by an immensely greater raid upon the helpless empire.

Germany got a foothold at Tientsin and Hankow and a little later took Shantung. France obtained additional territory and privileges in the south, and Russia by several moves slipped into Manchuria and absorbed the very rights of which she had induced Germany and France to aid her in depriving Japan. Meanwhile she has pushed steadily forward in an aggressive policy in Korea. The wonderful thing has been not that Japan has looked upon all this with amazement and anger, but that she has dealt with it with patience and self-control. She has proposed to Russia that they agree in recognizing the integrity of both China and Korea, each power to be acknowledged to have peculiar interests, Russia in Manchuria and Japan in Korea. From the point of view of Japan and in the light of history this is a fair and honorable proposition. It is a proposition on which Japan is entitled to the moral sympathy and support of the world. Russia indeed cannot take Korean territory without a breach of faith. In 1887, to secure the evacuation of Port Hamilton, on the Korean coast, by Great Britain, the tsungli yamen gave England assurance that the Russian government had given a "most explicit guarantee, distinctly declaring that in the future Russia would not take Korean territory." But Korea now separates the Russian holdings on the Liautong peninsula and at Vladivostok. Between these ports the Korean strait is the channel of intercourse. Korea accordingly commands both the land and the water connections, and its inland boundary on the Yalu and Tumen rivers backs upon Manchuria and the Siberian railway interests. Korea has become a necessity to Russia.

But Japan cannot afford to surrender Korea. It is historically and of necessity the main artery of her vital connection with Asia. It is only 125 miles across the Korean strait. And Fusan is but ten hours away from Shimonoseki, the gate of the inland sea. To yield Korea to a hostile power is to expose herself to peril along the whole western side of her territory. She needs Korea as a commercial outlet. She had both Korea and Manchuria as a result of the war with China and has now surrendered one and by far the larger and more profitable of these. She has struggled to lead China and Korea out into civilization. She now sees the Russian glacier slowly moving across both of them, walling her out from her natural destiny and barring before her any entrance to the continent of which she has dreamed that she was to be the savior.

TROPIC SPOT IN THE ARCTIC

Verdant Basin Where Miners Can Always Take a Hot Bath.

Latest Nome advices received at Dawson give details of wonderful hot springs which make a verdant spot just below the latitude of the Arctic Ocean in the midst of winter, says a Tacoma (Wash.) special dispatch. These springs are located on Reed river, 100 miles northwest of Illey camp, in the Koluk river country.

The thermal zone covers a large basin, where it is possible for travelers to disrobe at any time of the year and bathe in warm water. Snow never falls there, and the grass is always green. Vegetation is luxuriant, with abundance of ferns six feet high. Migrants go there and bathe during the winter months when the thermometer only a few miles away registers 60 to 70 below zero. Fish may be caught in the river the year round and cooked in the springs.

Two days' travel from the springs, on the Hotak side of the ridge, the Lucky Six Mining company has taken out considerable gold and also some rich silver quartz.

TOO BUSY TO FIND A WIFE.

Nebraska Farmer Asks Minister to Get a Helpmate for Him.

A few days ago an Omaha paper printed an item to the effect that the Rev. Charles W. Savage, pastor of the People's church, had performed 1,000 marriage ceremonies in his lifetime.

James Snell, a farmer in western Nebraska who is reputed to be worth $500,000, read the item, and the other day he called at the parsonage and asked Mr. Savage if he could not look him up a wife, says an Omaha dispatch.

"I have 1,000 acres of land, 3,000 head of cattle, hundreds of horses and a good home," he said, "but I have no wife and am too busy to look for one. If you will find me one I will agree to pay you handsomely for her and will, if you desire, furnish you ample capital to establish a matrimonial agency. I believe, sir, you would make a good matrimonial agent, and I'd like to help you get a start."

Mr. Savage did not accept his offer.

N Rays From Plants.

Botanists have recently been investigating the N rays, and we are told that they are emitted from plants, as well as from nerves and muscles, and that the fluorescent screen will glow when brought near to the plant, especially the leaves and the roots, where the effect is more pronounced than in the case of the flower, says Harper's Weekly. N rays are emitted from such plants as onions and mushrooms, so that they do not seem to depend upon the presence of chlorophyll, or green coloring matter, their intensity being apparently due to the activity and condition of the vegetable protoplasm. This was shown by the fact that the N rays were produced from germinated seedlings and not from those which had not germinated, while their emission was stopped entirely on using chloroform to suspend the vital activity of the plant.

Novelties In Fashions.

Ostrich plumes of all shades and hues are being worn by the smart women, who five years ago would have said "Absurd!" to even think of having a real ostrich plume in any but black or white, says the New York Press. But now the styles of thirty years ago have become popular, with the exception of the shading from a cardinal to a pastel hue in one long plume, which is distinctly of this revival. Gowns from kinu, a Japanese cloth of silky texture, are being purchased by women who want something "brand new." Kinu is like ponce in color, for when ponce has a smooth surface kinu has a heavy rib that gives the cloth a rough appearance. It would make excellent traveling gowns, for it sheds the dust readily.

FEEDING COLLEGE MEN.

Results of a New System on Trial at Harvard.

Vegetarians who are interested in the spread of their convictions about the proper nourishment of the human body will doubtless approve the new method of feeding college undergraduates which is on trial this year by the Harvard Dining association, which uses Memorial hall, in Cambridge, says Harper's Weekly. The association does not furnish the cheapest board the Harvard undergraduates can get. There are two eating clubs that are less expensive. But it tries to keep the price of food as low as it can. Until this year it supplied meals on the "American plan" for a price per week that was determined by its expenses. But finding that there was expensive waste, chiefly in meat, fish and eggs, it devised a new plan. It split the price of board into two parts. Each boarder now orders the meat, fish and eggs that he wants and pays for what he has. But the cost of all other provisions—tea, coffee, milk, butter, vegetables, bread, cereals and fruits—and the cost of service and running expenses are shared by all alike. Last year board at Memorial hall cost $4.20 a week. This year vegetarian boarders saved $2.00 a week. Boarders who are content with meat pay 11 or 12 cents a plate for beef and get two eggs for 7 cents.

The new system is said to be very popular. It seems exceptionally favorable for experiments with vegetable diet and is likely, one would think, to yield statistics of considerable interest. The member of this association who simply eats what is set before him becomes a vegetarian for the time being without special thought or care. He is not tempted to eat meat because it is brought to him or because he has to pay for it whether he wants it or not. No doubt many boarders, who don't eschew meat altogether materially reduce their consumption of it.

READ THIS.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes, and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, and I have been cured. I will cheerfully testify to the public that it did me more good than all things else put together, and am altogether another man. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

QUIET FOURTH OF JULY.

Chicago Women Would Substitute Poems and Oratory For Fireworks.

If the Fourth of July celebrations are to be held in accordance with the formula set down by the Ravenswood Women's club of Chicago the other day there will be a howl from all Young America, says the Chicago Inter Ocean.

"A has the fatal firecracker and the death dealing giant powder" was the keynote of the "conversation" in which the club members discussed "The Better Way to Celebrate the Fourth of July."

Here is the sweeping substitution in celebration proposed at the meeting:

Present celebration: Future celebration:
Cannon firecracker. National anthem.
Skyrocket. Red light.
"Nigger chaser." Patriotic poem.
Anvil dynamite. School exercises.
Hilarious celebration. Settlement picnic.
Fancy fireworks. Teachers' oration.
Individual fun. Public illumination.
Roman candles. Chewing gum.
Brass bands. Muffled drums.

There will not be much use in being a small boy if the club women have their way and oust the firecracker. "Fireworks contain bacteria of lock-jaw," said Dr. Wladislaw A. Kudewski of the board of education, who was one of the speakers. "Death and injury result from them. Let the children have a good time on the Fourth of July in a quiet way. Picnics, public illuminations, public concerts in the park and orations and recitations by the children and poems and national songs in the schools on the Fourth would teach them a glorious opinion of the significance of the day without the terrible loss of life and property we have each year from the terrible fireworks."

Mrs. T. P. Stanwood and Judge Holden were the other speakers, and they supported the opinion that the firecracker was a dangerous thing and should be done away with, Fourth of July or not.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Is Like Trying to Get Rid of Dandruff Without Herpelide.

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water? If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of dandruff and to prevent baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Cantharides, Yaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpelide is successful, because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots. It is the original and only genuine scalp germicide manufactured.

MATHENY &amp; LLOYD.

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, March 23.—Wheat—Brilliant weather caused during the greater part of the day a general disposition to sell. The tendency was emphasized by lower Liverpool cables. July opened 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ lower at 29 1/2¢ to 30 1/2¢. Commission houses and pit traders were hard to find. In consequence of lack of demand the market gradually became weaker. Execution of a number of stop-loss orders was a fresh element of weakness, another being the decline in coarse grains. In addition Minneapolis reported four flour mills closed. Furthermore receipts from the northwest showed increase. Suddenly at the last hour a sudden change became apparent. Many traders had sold short. In the rush to protect themselves shorts forced prices up rapidly. Reports from Indiana, claiming much crop damage by drought in that state, were mainly responsible for late buying. As a result July advanced from 29 1/2¢ to 30 1/2¢. Close was at 30 1/2¢, a loss of 1/2¢. Liverpool unchanged to 1/4¢ lower. On the coast thirteen boat loads were taken.

Corn—Heavy liquidation of May caused weakness the first part of the session. There was apparently no logical reason for general disposition to sell. Receipts were extremely small and weather most unfavorable for movement. Late in the day active buying by commission houses and shorts caused the market to change from weakness to strength. May recovered the greater portion of early loss, while more distant deliveries showed slight advance over previous high figures. Close was at 51 1/2¢, a loss of 1/2¢. Liverpool 5 1/2¢ higher. May closed at 49 1/2¢, a loss of 1/2¢. On the coast thirteen boat loads were accepted.

Oats—Oats suffered early from weakness of other grains. There was some selling of May and much offering of shorts, but large demand was even lighter than the supply. As a result the market ruled weak with lower prices prevailing. Covering by shorts caused a partial recovery late in the day, close being firm, May down 1/4¢, July 1/2¢ lower.

LIVESTOCK.
Cattle—Owing to the recent reduction in prices fewer cattle are being marketed. With only 16,000 on sale to day general demand was much better and prices stronger for bulk of offerings. Good to prime, 5.25 to 5.50; poor to medium, 3.50 to 4.50; stockers, 3.00 to 4.00; cows, 1.50 to 2.50; Texas, 1.00 to 1.50.

Hogs—Farmers throughout the country do not care to sell hogs freely when prices are lower and only 23,000 were received to day. Moderate demand and large local and shipping demand prices started off 5¢ higher. Later when the demand was over improvement was largely lost. Mixed and butchers, 5.20 to 5.40; good to choice, heavy, 5.50 to 5.75; rough heavy, 5.20 to 5.35; light, 4.50 to 5.00; bulk of sales, 5.20 to 5.40.

FINANCIAL MARKET.
New York, March 23.—Transactions in stocks to day rose considerably over the million share mark established yesterday and they were generally overbought. The preponderant in Union Pacifics yesterday. That stock was still a central figure in the market and its spectacular rise of yesterday was an influence which caused violent and feverish speculation in other stocks to day. Profit-taking in Union Pacific, however, was steady and persistent and this had an ultimate effect on the whole market, which showed signs of languor toward the end of the day.

The theory was much more plausible than buying of Union Pacific was to secure influential holding on the part of controlling power in Great Northern and Northern Pacific in compensation for the Union Pacific's influence in Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington. Closing quotations:

For such we say that Scott's Emulsion provides the right kind of a coat. Why? Because Scott's Emulsion builds firm, solid flesh and supplies just enough fat to fill nature's requirements—no more. That means bodily warmth.

FINANCIAL MARKET.
New York, March 23.—Transactions in stocks to day rose considerably over the million share mark established yesterday and they were generally overbought. The preponderant in Union Pacifics yesterday. That stock was still a central figure in the market and its spectacular rise of yesterday was an influence which caused violent and feverish speculation in other stocks to day. Profit-taking in Union Pacific, however, was steady and persistent and this had an ultimate effect on the whole market, which showed signs of languor toward the end of the day.

The theory was much more plausible than buying of Union Pacific was to secure influential holding on the part of controlling power in Great Northern and Northern Pacific in compensation for the Union Pacific's influence in Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington. Closing quotations:

OREGON'S CRATER LAKE

Remarkable Feature of New National Park Region.

ABOUNDS IN NATURAL WONDERS.

Territory Comprised by the Park Thought by Some to Rival the Yellowstone's Grandeur—Lake itself, Which Fills Bowl of Extinct Volcano, Has Long Been Regarded With Awe by Indians.

Congress last year created Crater Lake National park in Oregon. Within the 219 square miles embraced by this park there are as many natural wonders of mountains, snow clad peaks, forests, plains and streams as are to be found in any similar area of the west. Though comparatively unknown, the new park possesses many natural distinctions that may make it a rival of the Yellowstone, says a dispatch from Grant's Pass, Ore.

The lake and its surrounding wonders, comprising the new park, are located on the range of the Cascade mountains, northwest Klamath county, and eighty miles from the railroad. A spur line is being built from the Southern Pacific into that part of Oregon and will ultimately reach the park.

The present method of reaching Crater Lake is by train. Traveling by the Rogue from the railroad, one finds the valley narrowing and the farmhouses lessening, while the river grows swifter, the forests grow denser and the mountains more rugged. At a distance of fifty miles from the valley the Rogue narrows to a width of seventy-five feet and flows with great rapidity through a deep gorge. Here the river has an average fall of 200 feet to the mile.

Great columns of pyramids of cement rise from the bottom of the gorge. These columns are forty to fifty feet through at the base and attain a height of a hundred and more feet. These strange formations were composed of a harder substance than that which surrounded them and did not yield so readily to the action of the water as it cuts its way deeper and deeper into the gorge.

When within twelve miles of the lake evidences of volcanic action are seen along the Rogue. These are a silent reminder of the time when Mount Mazama, then the greatest mountain of the Cascades, threw forth columns of fire, smoke and lava. Then the day came when the great volcano had spent its energy and its fires died out. The crater cooled and filled with water, forming a lake of matchless beauty.

This body of water is elliptical, having a length of six miles and a width of four. In the early days the Indians viewed Crater Lake and its surroundings as holy ground and approached it with reverence. To them it is one of the spots made sacred by the presence of the Great Spirit. None but medicine men visited it, and when one of a tribe felt called upon to become a teacher and healer he spent several weeks on the shore of the lake fasting with the dead and in prayer to the Shaluhill Tye.

The shores of Crater Lake are precipitous and rugged, towering at many points to a height of 2,000 feet above the water. The water's edge can only be reached by a few narrow, winding trails. The expanse of the lake is unbroken save by Wizard Island, a cone shaped mountain that rises 800 feet above the surface near the western shore. Wizard Island was the last smoking chimney of the volcano.

The water of the lake is cold, clear and pure as the melted snowdrifts of the surrounding peaks can make it. There are no fish save some placed there in recent years, and the scarcity of vegetation will make it hard for these to survive. Over the deep blue expanse and its surrounding solitudes reigns a silence that borders on the sublime. It is but little wonder that the savage red man believed the Great Spirit slept in the bosom of Crater Lake.

STRAUSS' POINTED REMARK.

Incident on Steamer That Depleted Composer's Sense of Humor.

An incident which occurred in the smoking room of the Hamburg-American liner Moltke on the first night out from Cherbourg and which created no inconsiderable amusement among the passengers served to prove that Richard Strauss, the composer and conductor, who arrived in the United States recently, has a keen sense of humor. The musician was seated at a table with Pauline Bigelow, listening to a discourse on continental versus American architecture delivered with no little warmth by a young architect of New York city, when Henry Williams, head lion tamer for Carl Hagenbeck, entered the room.

"I have come," Mr. Williams began, "to beard the lions in their den."

"He means you," the architect said, laughing at the evident discomfiture of his companions.

"For a minute there was stillness in the smoking room. Then Herr Strauss, addressing the lion tamer, remarked pointedly:

"You would better begin on this cub here," pointing to the young architect. "You'll find him much easier to handle."—New York Times.

Wrestling in the Drawing Room.

Even bridge has been supplanted by the wrestling craze, says the Tatler. Hackenschmidt and the Terrible Turk may congratulate themselves that they have set a new fashion. At evening entertainments where formerly ping-pong and bridge were the craze we have now amateur wrestling matches. One enterprising stationer is already printing at home cards with the title word "Wrestling" in the corner.

BOLL WEEVIL PROBLEM.

Department of Agriculture's Direction to Destroy the Pest.

The department of agriculture has issued a bulletin giving directions for the eradication of the boll weevil, says a Washington special to the St. Louis Republic. The bulletin says: "The earlier investigations of the division of entomology and its work the past season warrant the recommendation of the following methods of lessening the boll weevil injury:

"Plant an early maturing variety of cotton as early as possible in the spring and give the plants good cultivation. By good cultivation is meant five or six plowings, with three or four choppings. By plowing and cultivating in this way a good crop may usually be insured before the bollworms become destructive in August. In the territory infested with the cotton boll weevil this course becomes doubly necessary, as it is only by such methods that ordinarily a crop of cotton may be made.

"The possibility of the plants developing a crop after the bollworms may be lessened on account of the presence of the weevil. Early planting of early maturing varieties will also allow of the crop being gathered much earlier in the fall than is possible with the plantings of ordinary gin seed at the usual time.

"It will thus become possible to a considerable extent to clear the land of the plants and plow in the fall, which, aside from being good farm practice, will exert a very beneficial influence in controlling the bollworms by breaking open their hibernation cells and exposing the pupae to the influences of cold and rain during the winter.

"Experiments with poisons the past year indicate that these may be profitably used in lessening bollworm injury to cotton. The poisons should be applied to the plants in time to insure the destruction of the maximum number of young larvae of the August generation. In general this will be about Aug. 1.

"When it is noticed that the moths are becoming abundant in the cotton fields the first application should be made, and a second application should follow the first week or ten days later. The occurrence of even a moderate rain shortly after the poison has been applied will necessitate another application if best results are to be secured."

SIMPLICITY OF THE POPE.

How He Once Prepared Coffee For a Guest With His Own Hands.

William J. D. Croke in his "Anecdotes of the New Pope," published in the Century Magazine for March, tells the following anecdote about Pius X. before he was elected to his high office:

One morning early a friend of mine, a Venetian nobleman, called on him. Mgr. Sarto had said mass and settled down to work. His sisters had gone out to mass or for the household making, which they were doing at the Rialto on Aug. 4, 1903, the day of wonders in their simple life.

"Has the count taken coffee?" asked the bishop.

"Well, to tell the truth, no, because the business was urgent, and I have come straight from the railway station," the guest replied.

No excuse availed, and Mgr. Sarto rose and went into the kitchen. So the bishop of dual Mantua, and his guest might have been seen there talking and laughing, while monsignor coaxed the charcoal with a black kitchen fan, the coffee dazed in a tin pot on the range, and the count got cups and saucers in order to serve his distinguished host what menial service he could. Then they had coffee together at the kitchen table.

A Cure For Hiccoughs.

Frank Green, a student in the life class of drawing at the Trenton School of Industrial Art, suffered with hiccough for three days; says a Trenton (N. J.) dispatch. A physician tried every known remedy without relief. Finally a friend suggested the use of electricity, and a light current was applied to Green's body. An improvement was noted, and the strength of the current was increased. Finally his hiccoughing ceased, and the cure was complete.

Roll Call In Korea.

Slowly died the last red sunbeam, slowly came the dusk of night. Where the moon blundered through the folds of the bearded Myosotis. Broke the landscape's rolling contour in a fair Korean vale. Many a warrior's cheek was pale. For the bloody fight was on. And before the call of fate. All was quiet as a form with a soul. Several uncommissioned chaps. Volunteered half heartedly to call the roll.

Major Hittedopsky, present; Major Pourfishofsky, here; Brave old Spikethesginsky, absent; Bugler Blowsky, guarding camp; Punkeroff is here and Sniffsky. Up spoke Quartermaster Bifsky. "Can't lose me, boys, never fear!" Present, too, were Bobbaltstrahitsky, Accusky, Bluffsky.

Cushoncomsky, Pingpongsky, Vladimir Onelungoroff, Butlerinsky, Malceseksky, Lageroff and Antifsky. Ivan Casey's baby, and The selfish Feetnotoff.

Not to mention many more with appellations much the same. Who reported "Here" and "Present" when the time to answer came.

Slowly spread the crimson sunrise, and the birds in the trees Sang a song that sounded bully to the Musketeer's main squeeze.

"By my beardsky," muttered he, "I was a glorious blunderer had to go, poor soul!"

But the only other chap Was the uncommissioned yep Who reported "Here" and "Present" when the time to answer came.

The park committee of the city council, of which Haller Higgins is chairman, met in the mayor's office Wednesday morning and awarded the contracts for the construction of the pagodas in Central and Duncan parks, recently authorized by the city council. The contract for the construction of the pagoda in Central park was awarded to N. B. Plummer. Joshua Vasconcellos secured the contract for the construction of the one in Duncan park.

M. W. A. MEETING.

Camp No. 132, M. W. A., will hold a regular meeting in Odeon hall Friday evening, April 1, at 7:30 o'clock. By Order of Committee.

THE MATRIMONIAL RECORD.

ROBINSON-SORRELLES.
Perry A. Robinson, of this city, and Miss Hettie B. Sorrelles, of Murrayville, were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. A. L. Ewert at the Centenary parsonage. The groom is a motorman on the Jacksonville street railway and both he and his bride have many friends who will be glad to extend their most sincere congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will reside in this city on East Michigan avenue.

BALL TEAM ORGANIZED.

A meeting of local base ball enthusiasts was held in the city Tuesday night and the organization of an amateur team for the coming season was perfected. All the members of the team of last year were present but Franz, who is out of the game this year on account of business, and Kennedy, who has a broken leg. Harry Norris was selected as manager of the team, which will consist of the following players:

Magill, catcher; Norris and Baker, pitchers; Hackett, first base; Hanchen, second base; Hagel, shortstop; Cadigan, third base; Schumm, left field; Livingston, center field; Shuman, right field.

The first home game of the season will be played about May 1, but it is probable that several out of town games will be played before that time. Manager Norris will at once begin to arrange a schedule of games for the season. The team as named promises to be a strong one and Jacksonville lovers of the national game will undoubtedly have an opportunity of seeing a good article of base ball this year.

GERMAN TELEPHONE GIRLS.

The 4,000 telephone girls in Germany are government employees. Each must be of good character and live in a respectable family. The pay is 33½ cents a day, with an advance of 6 cents in two years, and those four years in service secure 71 cents a day. Applicants for these positions usually wait two years for an opening.

GAS STOVES

Below Cost and on Most Favorable Terms.

The Jacksonville Gas Light & Coke Co. now offers to consumers accessible to its mains, GAS STOVES set up ready for use at $10 each, payable as follows: $1 cash when stove is ordered and the balance in monthly installments of $1 each until all is paid—or will allow a discount of 10 per cent for cash, making the price of a stove $9 if paid for when ordered. This places the stoves within the reach of all and as has been fully demonstrated, from the standpoint of comfort, cleanliness and economy, none can afford to be without one. Order early and be ready for warm weather when it comes.

FOR PRESIDENT OF ILLINOIS.

Two more candidates for president of the University of Illinois have been mentioned. Mr. Burrell, who will be acting president April 1st when Dr. Draper leaves for New York to assume his new duties in that state, and Eugene Davenport, head of the college of agriculture. Dr. Burrell acted as president for some time previous to the election of Dr. Draper, and will probably be in the saddle for some time to come, for the board will not act hastily in choosing Dr. Draper's successor. The suggestion of John W. Cook, president of the De Kalb normal, has created general interest. No expression from Mr. Cook has been brought out by the suggestion of his name, but his friends believe he would accept.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

Great Preparations Being Made For Their Entertainment at San Francisco at the Conclave.

A recent issue of the San Francisco Examiner speaks in glowing terms of the preparations being made in that city for the entertainment of visitors during the Knights Templar conclave to be held there next September. The Examiner says:

"The plans of triennial committee for the entertainment of the army of visitors to this city during the Knights Templar conclave to be held here during the first week of September, are fast assuming shape. There is positive assurance that more strangers will visit San Francisco on that occasion than ever congregated within the city before. This applies to the people of the Pacific slope as well as to those coming from east of the Rocky mountains. The arrangements for receiving and landing passengers are almost perfect. All transportation companies leading into California have secured the amplex accommodation possible to meet the extraordinary demand.

"Committees will meet the visitors some distance up the road, escort them to the depot, where detachments of sir knights, afoot and mounted, will receive them upon arrival, and escort them, with bands of music and unfurled banners, to their hotels and headquarters. Carriages will be provided for ladies and for aged men. Special street cars will also be at the depot for the use of parties of Templars, who may prefer to ride to their hotels in one party. The cars will be so arranged as to run by cable or electricity, and will carry passengers to a certain point only. For the ladies' reception committee three parlors have been secured at the Palace hotel.

"Golden Gate park will excel anything the easterner or even the westerner has ever seen, to show the visitor what can be done with skill aided and favored by the exceptional climatic conditions prevailing in San Francisco all the year. Every Masonic emblem, of every rite and degree, is to blossom in fragrant, bright flowers in the people's pleasure ground.

"The illumination and street decorations are to be the most dazzling ever seen. The fund pledged by the grand commandery of California and the two local commanderies, California No. 1, and Golden Gate No. 16, will reach almost $100,000. Considerable more will be contributed by the other commanderies of California, who will attend in large numbers, bring exhibits and keep open house all week, beginning Sept. 4th. Additional funds to defray necessary expenses in entertaining will be solicited by the finance committee from hotels, transportation companies, corporations, business firms and public-spirited citizens, who appreciate the benefits accruing to San Francisco from a gathering of so many prominent men of the nation."

SURPRISE PARTY.

Wednesday was the birthday of Mrs. Albert Anderson, residing on South East street, but the day would possibly have gone by unnoticed by her had not a number of friends unexpectedly called at her home in the evening and, after reminding her of the occasion, proceeded to have a good time. Games were indulged in pleasantly and afterward refreshments, which the visitors had brought with them, were served.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pine, Mrs. Hanks, Mrs. John Reid, Miss Keemer, Miss Hulet, Mr. Scott and Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Kennedy.

GETTING OUT ADVERTISING.

The state board of agriculture is getting out advertising matter for the coming state fair. Some very attractive and artistic designs have been agreed upon and are being distributed. Other matter is not decided on yet, but orders will be given shortly. Owing to the counter attraction at St. Louis the board this year will make an extra effort in advertising the fair. Interest is not to be allowed to lag, and in order to make up the crowds many special inducements in the way of attractions and premiums will be offered.

In the April number of the Red Book, a popular magazine, there appears a full page half-tone cut of Miss Sara Jane Matthews, of this city. It is an excellent likeness of her.

BUSINESS MEN.

There will be a called meeting of the Business Men's association at the Wyoming club at 7:30 this evening, to consider important manufacturing propositions.

Esquire I. D. Vedder, of Whitehall, has a manuscript book, folio size, that is devoted to arithmetical problems solved by his father, Aaron Vedder, at school at Schenectady, New York, in 1795. The writing, old fashioned round hand, was executed with a quill pen, and is remarkably clear, legible and free from blots or erasures. It covers the entire range of arithmetic then taught. The paper is of the size known as foolscap. It is of good quality but without rules, and is now yellow with age. On the cover, which is an excellent quality of pasteboard, are figures which indicate that the book was bound in 1795, one hundred and nine years ago.

THE DEATH RECORD.

COFFIN.

Among the names in the recent death list of our Alumnæ is that of Mrs. Coffin, wife of F. S. Coffin, of Cuero, Texas, who, on the 8th, passed away suddenly at her southern home with apoplexy.

Mrs. Coffin will be remembered by her classmates as Lillie Tipton. She graduated in the literary department of the Academy and also in the Conservatory of Music in the class of '73. Soon after completing the course she went south, and was an efficient and popular teacher, being prominent in the musical development of her adopted city. The Cuero Weekly Star pays a high tribute to her memory, saying:

"Probably the death of no woman in Cuero would have occasioned more wide spread sorrow. Without pretense of any kind, she yet took a leading part in everything tending to the upbuilding of the city. Those who mourn her loss can and will take consolation from the fact her life has been an unmixt blessing to the world, and that all who have come in contact with her daily life and example have been benefited and bettered thereby."

And we, the Alumnæ of Jacksonville Academy, feel honored by the noble life of our dear sister and would add our tribute of love and affectionate remembrance to her whose genuine goodness of character has yielded so rich a fruitage.

Resolved, That this tribute be placed in the Alumnæ records, and a copy be sent to the bereaved family and to each of the city papers.

Sue E. Ellis,
Almyra Trahan Strawn,
Julia Lathrop Ward.

FUNERALS.

BLACK.

The funeral of Mrs. Maggie Black was conducted Wednesday afternoon from the family residence on East Court street, followed by interment in Jacksonville cemetery. Mrs. Black was 29 years of age and is survived by her husband and three children.

HIAWATHA CLUB DANCE.

The Hiawatha club gave a very enjoyable dance in the Red Men's hall Wednesday evening. About twenty-five couples were present and enjoyed dancing to excellent music until midnight. This was one of a series of dances which are being given by the club during the season, and which are proving to be very successful social affairs.

William Shaffer, a brakeman of Dennison, Ohio, was confined to bed for several weeks with inflammatory rheumatism. "I used many remedies," he says. "Finally I sent to McCaw's drug store for a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, at which time I was unable to use hand or foot and in one week's time was able to go to work as happy as a clam." For sale by all leading druggists.
